

We foster connections!

TIM CONSULT at transport logistic 2017

April 2017

From May 9 to 12, 2017, the transport sector will meet again for transport logistic 2017 in Munich. The motto this year is „Logistics makes it happen.“

„Continued growth in e-commerce, the ongoing digitization of logistics processes, the revolutionary impact of ‚Industry 4.0‘ on transport and logistics: The challenges ahead are enormous. Today, innovative products and technologies are needed more than ever before to connect people, markets and goods faster, more efficiently and more sustainably,“ thus the description of the organizer.

Creating sustainable connections is also the core competence of TIM CONSULT. We help clients optimize their global value networks. From transport, to the network as well as warehouse and waste management, TIM CONSULT covers all facets of logistics. With our knowledge of the market, methods and processes, we guarantee the best possible solutions and bespoke advice to our clients. TIM CONSULT will be showcasing the following consulting services at transport logistic 2017:

Benchmarking Air, Ocean, Road & Rail

With its market intelligence initiatives, TIM CONSULT has been conducting successful cross-industry benchmarking for all modes of transport since 1999. Currently, the member community is made up of 95 shippers comprised of SMEs and international corporations from Europe, the USA, Japan, China, South Africa, and the Middle East. A lot of movement has been taking place with US clients. We will provide further information on this development at the trade fair.

Freight Procurement 4.0

Numerous opportunities for using industrial 4.0 tools can be recognized if we view freight procurement as a combination of strategies, processes and tools. Today, digitization and networking offers us access to a wide range of data. If this data is transformed into actionable information, it allows, for example, more efficient call for tender procedures, the optimal design of complex supply chains, and the objective consideration of service criteria.

Our experts will be more than happy to discuss with interested visitors how to optimize their transportation, transportation management and freight procurement procedures with the help of Industry 4.0 methods.

Disposal Logistics

Important for smooth logistics processes are not only the distribution of raw materials, products, services and information but also the efficient disposal of residues of all kinds. With our specialist „Public Management“ department, TIM CONSULT has been assisting public enterprises with innovative waste disposal concepts for over 20 years. This knowledge flows into waste management logistics projects in the private sector. We will be happy to share this knowledge with you at our stand.

In addition, the logistics experts from TIM CONSULT will be available to discuss global sourcing strategies, IT-assisted tender management, strategic network design, site planning, pooling concepts and warehouse logistics strategies and concepts with visitors.
