

We are looking for applicants in the field of SCM and Transport & Traffic

Transportation Analyst/ Consultant (m/f)

Key Responsibilities

- Analysis and evaluation of extensive customer data (network, flows, costs)
- Providing ongoing analysis utilizing rate data bases and transport market trends to determine underlying causes of freight developments and provide recommendations for improvements
- Support the Value Network Management with Benchmarking, Market Radars, Global Costs Data Base, TCO Models and Costs Forecasts
- Development of customised tender concepts based on sourcing requirements & strategy for Ocean Transport, Global Air and European Road & Rail
- Tender management, evaluation of bids and allocation of logistics services. Current transport & logistics procurement >6 bn EUR business value
- Conduct Community events and conferences for 50 worldwide leading companies of the Fortune 200
- Development of strategies which enable customers to realize the competitive edge for freight procurement and streamline their purchasing processes

Innovative Solutions and successful Implementation in all Elements of Global Value Networks.

Your Qualifications

- Excellent university degree (Bachelor/Master), preferably in economics, business administration, engineering or comparable degree
- Initial relevant work experience preferred
- Strong analytical, problem-solving and high-level reasoning and numerical skills
- Attention to detail, ability to do in-depth data mining, and a methodical approach to work
- Ability to comfortably act as a liaison between teams and management
- Team player, but with the confidence to act independently
- Superior communication (written and verbal) skills
- Fluent in English, good German skills are preferred; third language is of advantage
- Computer literate, (sound knowledge of SQL, Microsoft Excel, Microsoft Access and Visual Basic)

Your benefits

- A stimulating and flexible working environment in a young and motivated multilingual team
- Direct customer contact from day one
- Large multinational customer base with focus on building long-term relationships
- The possibility of developing one's skills and competencies
- A competitive salary with excellent career prospects
- A friendly and dynamic team culture, with Corporate Social Events

We look forward to meeting you!